

For those interested: ORGANIC VEGETABLES/FRUITS @ Ledeganck

Dear colleague,

In the framework of sustainability @ Ugent, we took the initiative to launch the delivery of organic fruit/vegetable packages at campus Ledeganck for interested people working at UGent. Packages are delivered by 'De Wassende Maan' on Friday noon and stay there till evening. You can choose for a package every week or every 2 weeks (including school holidays). A trial of 3-7 packages is possible before becoming a 'regular' member'. If you are abroad/on holidays, you can cancel delivery upon request (email at least 9 days beforehand – no payment) or donate to a charity organisation (De Wassende Maan does this for you – you contact them at least 9 days beforehand and you pay the normal amount). More info on types of packages, prices and the contract are given below or can be found at <http://www.dewassendemaan.be/> (Dutch only; you can also contact me for further information).

If you are interested, please send an email with family name, first name, email address, post address, research unit, type of the package (mini, small vegetable, large vegetable, mixed, fruit, potatoes or 'extra') and frequency (weekly, biweekly, starting with a trail or not) to info@dewassendemaan.be with Katrien Van Petegem (Katrien.VanPetegem@UGent.be) in cc for internal communication. Don't forget to mention that you are an employer @Ghent University – campus Ledeganck. They will tell you when your first package arrives. Once that's the case, I (or another colleague) can show you the keys and the stock-room to pick your stuff. You should always bring own bags to take things home.

Yours sincerely,

Valérie Lehouck
